SEES CHANGE COMING

SOCIALIST FORETELLS A SPIRITUAL REVIVAL BEFORE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

Interested to hear what a Socialist leader had to say on "Christianity in Overalls," a large and intelligent audience numbering about 400 assembled in the auditorium of the Union high school Monday evening. when J. Stitt Wilson lectured. Mr. R. Gilhousen presided.

The lecturer said that the history of all great reforms showed that they were necessarily preceded by a period of opposition. This seemed advantageous not only to their numerical growth but to what is more important, their evolution. In the course of the formative and evolutionary period such movements had usually sloughed off many features that would have been greatly to their disadvantage had they remained. In addition they also gained something by the process of delay which gave time for grave thought and tended to perfect and ripen the program and policies of such movements. He instanced the reformer, Wycliffe, who first introduced the Bible in the English language to the English people. He told of his long struggle; of the opposition with which he met and how after his death his opponents exhumed his body, burned it and cast the ashes on the sea; yet this very opposition and animosity spread Wycliffe's ideas and created for them an audience that helped to bring on the reformation in England.

He told of John Wesley and his long struggle against the pride and prejudice of the prelates of the Church of England; how they opposed the reforms of the reformer; how they clung to their horns and their hounds, their riches in high places; their crowd of starving curates and their millions of starving souls. He described how at last, Wesley who loved the Church of England and remained to the last true to his ordination was driven out and was forced to create that large body of dissent that is now so formidable an element in every parish in England and such a power for good there and everywhere.

Speaking of the reformers of the United States he told of Garrison and Wendell Phillips and their hard struggle against bitter opposition; how they were mobbed and persecuted; but still persevered and how gradually the ideas of liberation they promulgated sank into the minds of men and wakened their souls. How the rich, interested in the maintenance of the old slave system brought every power into play against them but how they finally persevered and finally brought forth battle to victory, which involved the whole nation, North against South.

"The world," said the lecturer "was not ready for such reformers when they opened their campaigns. It took a long time of preparation of the soil before the ideas took root. It also required much suffering and much sacrifice ere the final crowning victory was won."

In like manner he maintained that the world is not ready for Socialism. Socialism is in the formative and evolutionary period. It is preparing the soil and the great social change that must inevitably come cannot arrive until the moment when all elements are in unison. The country, he asserted, is on the eve of a great religious revival,--the greatest ever known. When the religious revival has manifested itself great social and industrial changes will be effected also; but the country must have the spiritual revival first.

He asserted that the gospel of Christ has not yet been preached in its fullness and more important than all it had not yet been practiced to that degree which was the ideal of Christ himself. Only by the teaching and preaching of the gospel of the kingdom could this great social change come. Socialism, he maintained, at least the type of socialism he himself represented, was not revolutionary but evolutionary.

The lecture was listened to with much attention and elicited considerable favorable comment for its moderation. The lecturer will speak in the First Congregational church on Sunday evening at 7.45 on "The Religion of Jesus."

BAND TO FOLLOW QUEEN

To Glendale municipal band has been accorded the honor of leading the floral parade tomorrow. The band will follow immediately after the queen. The Glendale float will follow immediately after the band. Glendale has made many friends by the hospitality dispensed by the Elks since the convention began and this honor you will be told by many is well deserved.

RODEO FOR VISITORS

ELKS FROM EAST HAD EXCITING TIME WITH STAGE COACH AND BUCKING BRONCO

Had Al Jennings and the Rev. John H. Troy been present at the Elks' rodeo Monday afternoon they would have had some sensations resembling those they have experienced recently. The famous converted bandit would have been in a position to criticize the "art" of the mimic hold-up men, and if he had mingled with the crowd he would have heard his own recent adventures and his new life discussed with much acumen.

It was a large and enthusiastic crowd that poured down to the large vacant lot at the corner of Fifth and Brand boulevard to witness the feats of horsemanship and the rest of the entertainment provided for them by the Elks of Glendale. The afternoon was typical of this part of California—delightfully warm—some might have thought it too warm—but the majority seemed to enjoy it.

Hosea Steelman and his cowboy outfit were the entertainers of the afternoon. Mr. Steelman is famous as a cowboy exhibitor and has won many prizes at different rodeos throughout the West. He was assisted by Mrs. Steelman, another famous performer.

Indeed, the whole Steelman family was in evidence throughout the performance. Hosea Steelman, Jr., gave a first-class exhibition of bucking broncho riding. Mounted on the famous broncho, "Bucking Elk," he thrilled the whole field with the masterly manner in which he stuck to his leaping, bounding terror.

Albert Steelman gave a fine exhibition of roping, as did also "Hoot" Gibson. Paul Steelman, Dick Crawford, Fred Earl and Kid Kansas were in evidence in various parts of the performance.

Miss Julia Steelman looked graceful and capable on her mount and showed that the gift of horsemanship is in the family. Miss Grace Teed, a famous horsewoman, exhibited thorough mastery in every line she tried. Mrs. Earl and Mrs. Rose Gibson were other capable performers.

Of course the sensation of the day was the hold-up of the stage. The ancient stage coach, with its four horses, was driven onto the field by C. W. Brennicke, who was once a famous stage driver in the wicked, old days at Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek. Brennicke tooled up his team in great shape and then Hosea Steelman shouted for passengers, many Elks responding and filling the coach, which wheeled off in good old style. As the coach rounded the field two masked robbers rode out, cut the traces in professional style, and ordered out the passengers, who were bidden to hold up their hands.

When the robbers were going through the pockets of the victims, the sheriff and his posse rode out from the brush with a whoop and amid a fusillade of shots got after the robbers and lassoed them. The team was hitched up and drove off, one of the "passengers" giving a fine exhibition of acrobatics by standing on his head on the top of the coach, presumably in his great glee at having recovered his valuables. This realistic exhibition greatly tickled the audience, who went back to the other items of the day pleased.

WORLD RENOWNED PIANIST WEDS MISS WAKEFIELD

A very quiet but impressive wedding was performed last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. Spencer Robinson, 234 East Ninth street, Glendale, by Rev. C. Irving Mills, uniting in marriage Miss Bertha Roquette Wakefield and Mr. Brahm van den Berg. This is of special interest to the musical fraternity, as Mr. van den Berg is among the noted musicians of the world and has favored Glendale audiences on several occasions. Miss Wakefield, a cousin of Mrs. Robinson and Mr. Leon Sonntag, is a recent arrival from Davenport, Iowa, and came especially to take vocal instruction from Mr. Robinson. She possesses a remarkable soprano voice and has been heard with much pleasure in many of the cities of the Middle West. After the ceremony the wedding party was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson at the Alexandria.

Mr. and Mrs. van den Berg intend making their home in Glendale and will welcome their many friends after September 1.

DANCING CLASS

Mrs. Wayland Brown will organize a children's class in grace culture and fancy dancing at 3 p. m. Thursday, July 15, at Butler's hall. For further information phone 787R.

WEDDED IN TROPICO

FRANK SHARMAN, BOSTON, AND MAIZIE BLACK HUSBAND AND WIFE

A very pretty summer wedding took place at the home of Attorney and Mrs. C. T. Van Etten, 231 El Bonita avenue, Tropico, Saturday afternoon when Mr. Frank Sharman of Boston, Mass. and Miss Maizie Black became husband and wife. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the presence of about twenty of the friends of the young couple. The living room where the ceremony was performed was a bower of white, carnations and daisies making a pretty combination, and a choice setting for the charming bride in her white gown. Rev. W. E. Edmonds o fthe First Presbyterian church of Glendale spoke the words that united the happy couple and after all had expressed their heartfelt congratulations, the way was led to the dining golden blossoms and where the wedding repast was served. Mrs. Arthur Paine produced sweet strains from her violin while the supper was being served.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharman have gone to Santa Barbara and San Francisco on their honeymoon and on their return will reside for the present in Los Angeles. The bride has been a kindergarten teacher in Santa Monica and is known to many Glendale people as the niece of Mr. David Black of North Glendale. She and her worthy young husband are the recipients of many good wishes from Glendale and Tropico friends.

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Jean McNutt, who has endeared herself to her many friends and acquaintances in North Glendale, being about to leave this locality permanently, along with her family, who are about to take up their residence in Nashville, Tenn., was entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cooper, 1017 Melrose avenue, by the girls of the Philathea society. The girls had invited the Baraca boys and altogether there were about forty guests present. The feature of the evening was the presentation of a valuable signet ring with "Philathea" engraved on it to Miss McNutt. The evening was spent in games. Music added to the pleasure, and the only regret was that Miss McNutt was on the eve of her departure.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lynn of 1021 Melrose avenue returned on Monday from Inglewood, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Goldschmidt for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue are entertaining as their house guests their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Colegrove of Greenville, Ohio, who are touring California, planning to visit both of the expositions and other interesting places before their return east.

Mrs. W. H. Brown of 908 San Rafael street entertained as her house guests during the past week her niece, Miss Elizabeth Perry, and Mrs. O. M. Bell of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Colin Care of San Rafael street was the guest of Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain of Hollywood at a beautifully appointed luncheon last Monday complimentary to Mrs. Burton T. Thrall of Los Angeles. Covers were laid for twelve, the other guests being Los Angeles and Hollywood friends.

Miss Barbara Mitchell of Kenneth road and Miss Alpha Clement of 1321 North Pacific avenue are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell of Myrtle street at the Elks' parade and other attractions in Los Angeles today and tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilbur of Rancho La Solano, San Gabriel, with their daughter and family, Mrs. Geo. H. Marsh of 1645 Ruth street, will motor to Los Angeles today to see the parade.

Mr. James W. Cooper of 1017 Melrose avenue, one of the official employees of the Bekins Van and Storage company of Los Angeles, is enjoying his annual vacation of two weeks.

CHIEF'S FORD WRECKED

An auto accident which, but for the presence of mind of Chief Herald, might have had a serious aspect, took place this afternoon at the intersection of Brand and Colorado boulevards, when a Ford driven by W. Wright, jeweler in the Palace Grand theater building, smashed into the city machine, No. 3, driven by the chief of police. The chief's machine was turned completely over. Just before it capsized the chief jumped and escaped with torn clothes and a few bruises. Wright's machine as well as himself was uninjured.

DEATH BY ACCIDENT

CORONER'S JURY ACQUITS J. C. KLAMM FOR THE DEATH OF MR. I. H. HALL

Before Coronner Calvin Hartwell and a jury consisting of the following: R. E. Bryson, Cole & Damerell block; H. A. Wilson, 325 South Louise; S. J. Reed, 234 Cedar; W. S. Carmichael, 435 Cedar; R. McGee, 580 West Broadway, and Ed Quinch, 420 West Fifth street, the inquest on the body of I. H. Hall, 1431 Patterson avenue, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The following witnesses were subpoenaed for the inquest: W. H. Burriff, 1427 Milford street; Mr. Miller, 1424 Milford; Raymond Spink, 1508 West Broadway; Ernest Murphy of Broadway and Orange; Miss Miller, 117 North Central; Miss Leadsworth, 117 North Central; J. R. White, Jr., 101 Orange; D. O. Peet, 1428 Milford; Ethel Preston, 1414 Sycamore; Dr. Russell Boyer and J. C. Klamm, 235 East Broadway.

The inquest was held in the rooms of the Pulliam Undertaking company. The general trend of the evidence was to show that J. C. Klamm was driving at a slow pace when the accident took place. It was also brought out that some days before the accident the bar and standard of the headlights had been broken, so that all deductions as to the speed at which the auto had been going, from the fact that these parts were broken, were worthless.

The general impression among the witnesses was that while in this particular case there seemed to have been no blame attachable to Mr. Klamm, and that the accident was caused chiefly by the deceased having first started to cross the road and afterward changed his mind and stopped, then changing his mind again and going on, that it might be wise to caution drivers of automobiles to exercise great care in driving through the streets.

LA CRESCENTA

On Sunday afternoon and evening a Sunday school rally of the San Fernando district took place at La Crescenta. Addresses were given by Dr. H. A. Dowling, Rev. Theodore Hopping, Rev. E. M. Lumm, Mr. T. J. Thompson, Mr. D. E. Wetherbee, Mr. T. D. Percey and Mr. W. L. Beedy. Some very fine musical selections were given by the Lankershim Sunday school, the La Crescenta Sunday school, the brass instrument trio, consisting of two cornets and baritone—Gladys Maygrove, Constance Maygrove and Russell Blumfield—and the Monte Vista valley band, under the direction of R. Walter Maygrove.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Rev. Dr. W. S. Blackburn, a beloved and honored member of the First M. E. church, preached the sermon at that church Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Bede A. Johnson, who is attending camp meeting at Huntington Beach.

Several members from the gospel team had charge of the evening service. Those who gave short addresses were Brothers C. D. Lusby, A. W. Tower, C. H. Bott, Ed. M. Lee and H. A. Wilson. One of the fine features of the evening service was the 'cello solo played by Mr. Dana Burket.

TO TELL OF HOLD UP

At the Baptist church tomorrow evening at the regular prayer service the pastor, Rev. John H. Troy will take for his subject, "A preacher went down to Pomona and fell among thieves," relating his experiences and his sensations at the time the P. E. car was held up in Pomona Sunday evening and he in company with the reformed and converted train robber and bandit was among those held up and robbed. This was an interesting and unusual experience and contains many valuable lessons which Rev. Troy will bring out in his own interesting way.

WORK STRENUOUSLY

MAKE PRIZE WINNING CERTAIN IN WORK YOU DO THE NEXT TWO DAYS

Just two days left of the extra vote offer, and these next two days will certainly uncover a few lively contestants.

Take mighty good care of the position you have. Hold onto it. It has cost you several weeks' work. Don't overlook the necessity of making Wednesday and Thursday count. Realization that a place may be lost at the present time is the healthiest view a contestant can take.

It means that he will meet the competition of those who have put forth extra efforts on this bonus vote offer, because they were shrewd enough to see that many would relax their efforts at this stage.

If the contest should end now, what prize would you get?

In all likelihood the prize you would get, if the contest closed now, would be more valuable than the prize you will get when the contest closes, UNLESS YOU ADD TO YOUR PRESENT STANDING.

If, in the few weeks' work of the contest, you have reached a place where you are in line for a good value, you may be considered very fortunate. It isn't everyone who can make as good a financial showing.

But, suppose that your failure to keep up the pace for the next two days should wipe out one-third of that earning. Would it not be a costly bit of short-sightedness on your part that you had overlooked the final opportunity?

A good many contestants expect to better their fortunes in the next two days. They figure on gaining several places. At least half the big prize list is being strenuously contested for right now.

But even if you don't intend to better your position, protect it from capture.

Don't let the "enemy" rout you from your hard-won place. Bring up your reserves. Some of them are bringing heavy guns (meaning large subscriptions) to bear upon it. You can't afford to be driven to the next entrenchment (meaning a lower prize).

Getting Second Payments or Extended Subscriptions

Remember about the advantage of getting second payments on subscriptions. If you have received a three months' subscription from a friend, have it increased to six months. If you have procured a six months' subscription, have it extended to a yearly subscription, etc. The first prize, the $850 Maxwell auto, fully equipped, purchased of the King-Maxwell agency, has not yet been won. Neither has the $400 Schiller piano, purchased of the Platt Music company of Los Angeles, the trip to the exposition, the $75 scholarships to the Isaacs-Woodbury Business college, the $50 certificate at the First National bank of Glendale, or any of the prizes. Your chance is still unexcelled. By putting forth the proper efforts you can be successful, and your work counts for most the next three days. Make them count.

OLD FASHIONED RELIGION

Rev. E. H. Willisford, pastor of the First Congregational church declares that he believes in the "old fashioned religion." In a recent sermon he said in part, "I believe in the 'old fashioned religion'. I want the real 'old fashioned religion.'

"The old fashioned religion which some evangelists are shouting about, which some two by four preachers are propounding (more correctly speaking are pounding) which some near saints are singing about is too young for me.

"This much talked about religion had its birthday no longer ago than the medieval ages. Its parenthood was ignorance and superstition. Its grand parents were bigotry and idolatry.

"I want the old, old fashioned religion which had its birth just about 1900 years ago. I believe in the old religion which Jesus Christ preached and which the apostle Paul preached.

"I want and need the old fashioned religion which has in it the vision of the Transfiguration, the agony of Gethsemane and the suffering of Calvary. This kind of religion had its beginning and nurture in the infinite love of the eternal Father, its the service and sacrifice of Christ and should and must find its present expression in the earnest, consecrated, prayerful and spirit filled life of the believer of to day.

"This kind of old fashioned religion I believe in with all of my heart, mind and soul.

There's just a chance, of course, that a bombardment of Venice will disclose the whereabouts of the missing British navy.

ELKS IN PASTURE

ANTLERED HERDS FEED AND DRINK COMFORTABLY IN "PLEASANT VALLEY"

Glendale was in evidence all day Monday in the entertainment of the visiting Elks. The entertainment of the day began at Hotel Green, Pasadena, and there John Roman of the Glendale lodge had provided one of the best mixed vaudeville entertainments ever given on such an occasion. The visiting Elks expressed their satisfaction, nay their unbounded delight, at Mr. Roman's originality and cleverness.

From Pasadena the visitors were whirled rapidly to Glendale in numerous autos thoughtfully provided for them by the Glendale contingent. They were met in the city by the civic band in the new uniforms just donated them by the Los Angeles lodge. From that time on there was a right good time.

In the local lodge's clubrooms everything was free. How much the visiting brethren appreciated this feature need not be said. They had found charges for the various "soft" drinks they consumed in other lodge rooms; in Glendale the life-saving beverages were free. Everything they needed was without money and without price.

It need hardly be said that the visitors went away with reluctance and made many promises to come back again. That they will come back again—some of them to stay—is to be sincerely hoped and may be confidently expected.

A glance at the visitors' book in the lodge room shows names from every state in the Union and from all the principal cities. Lynn, Mass.; New Hampshire points, Florence, S. C.; Portland, Ore.; Springfield, Mo.; Kittaning, Pa.; Denver, Colo.; Wenatchee, Wash.; Omaha, Neb.; Salina, Kans.; Goldsboro, N. C.; Albany, N. Y., are a few of the locations taken at random from the signatures of the visitors in the lodge book.

Wherever they came from, they all agreed in voting that Glendale's entertainment was the greatest success of the day.

Their mothers and their sisters were made just as much at home as themselves. Every provision was made for their comfort. The band played excellent dance music and the visitors, young and old, if there is such a thing as an "old" Elk, danced away with vim and enjoyment. Everything was pleasant. Everybody was happy and everybody admired the local scenery, and above all, the spirit that reigned in lodge No. 1289.

"That," said a visitor from New York, "is the true Elk spirit. It does me good to come out to this coast and find that the boys here, if anything, have improved on the original hospitality with which we began in lodge No. 1, New York. Of course we will all come back, if not in annual convention, then by ourselves, and some of us will just naturally stay in this lovely climate and in this beautiful spot."

AT ELKS REST ROOM

Reports from Los Angeles say that Glendale Elks and their friends are gladly availing themselves of the nicely appointed rest room that the care and thoughtfulness of the local brethren have provided for visitors to Los Angeles at 214 Mercantile Place. The brethren of Glendale wish it to be known that all Glendale people will be made heartily welcome at the rest room, where a commodious dressing-room is at the service of ladies and children.

Officials of the local lodge are busy men these days. In addition to their labors in entertaining the visitors on Monday throughout the day, they had a regular meeting Monday evening, at which were entertained many visiting brethren from New York No. 1, including their past exalted ruler, who is a man measuring six feet six inches in height. They also had the pleasure of entertaining the past exalted ruler of Queensboro lodge, N. Y. A very pleasant time was spent and the visiting brethren departed with a thorough appreciation of real hospitality.

LAWN PARTY

Thirty five Presbyterian girls enjoyed an informal affair in the form of a Kensington at the home of Miss Pearl Adams, 800 Adams street on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Miss Jeanette McLennon and Miss Marian Carmichael read two chapters of Ann of Ava, one of the most fascinating of American girl stories, while the girls talked and embroidered.

A similar afternoon is being enjoyed to day at the home of Miss Clara Ginn, 128 Orange St. from 3 to 5. Miss Harriett Nichols, Miss Elsie Wilson and Miss Marguerite Stauffacher will read.

CARE IN AUTO DRIVING

Undoubtedly there is a strong lesson in the most regrettable auto accident that caused the death of a citizen Sunday night. Ever since the local authorities relaxed their former strict supervision of automobile speed in consequence of the fines being diverted from local use, there has been a perceptible recklessness or carelessness in the handling of autos through the public streets. The public has rights in this respect that must not be ignored and are not ignored by right-thinking people.

No matter what may be said or decided in cases such as that which was before the coroner's court Monday, when the owner of the auto was acquitted of all blame in the matter of the accident, there is always the other side, where a bereaved family sits in bitterness and sorrow over one who will never return. When one thinks of the darkened household and of the souls in anguish listening for the "sound of a voice that is still" one cannot but feel that no care can be too great that succeeds in preventing such heartrending scenes and such uncalled-for bereavement.

Day after day sees the number of automobiles in Southern California increasing and yet the down-town accommodation in such towns as Los Angeles is not keeping pace with the increase. Nothing but the utmost care on the part of auto drivers can prevent accidents there and even in the broad and spacious streets of Glendale there is still necessity for caution and circumspection in driving.

GENERAL CONDITIONS IMPROVE

It is true that the general public has not as yet a great deal to boast of in the way of prosperity, but the era of prosperity is here all the same. Political conditions may in some measure account for the fact that this prosperity has not yet spread to the vast army of citizenship that cannot be counted in the capitalist class. All the same, there can be heard on all sides the admission that things are better.

This year the farmers report the largest wheat crop this country has ever had—950,000,000 bushels of wheat. Cotton, though coming from a reduced acreage, is ample in quantity and sufficient for all needs. The steel trade has benefited largely by the war and continues to benefit from orders that are being doubled every now and then.

There is an abnormal demand for metals of every kind and prices are high and profitable. Imports have shown considerable recovery of late to the great benefit of the national treasury. The treasury deficit has been growing at a rate which, if not checked, would necessitate the devising of new sources of revenue.

However, as the customs receipts have increased largely and payments on income tax are approaching, it may be possible for the treasury officials to postpone any new tax or means of raising revenue.

Indeed, the general outlook is excellent and there is observable an undertone of confidence that will shortly be translated into a strong market for stocks of all kinds. The country will gradually recover its tone and balance and by the time the next presidential election comes round things should have a chance to be normal.

HONESTY THAT IS ONLY SKIN DEEP

There are people who are honest simply because it is the safest thing for them. They are like that curious race of people to be found everywhere, who never come into contact with the police as long as things run in their natural course; but who, the moment a conflagration sweeps a city, or an earthquake shakes down its walls and destroys its sources of light and water, come out of their haunts and exhibit themselves in their true colors as thieves, looters and even murderers.

Because they have not opportunity and have not courage, many people remain virtuous all their lives. The virtue or the honesty that has never been tried is sometimes a questionable possession. Thus it would seem some people in Santa Monica have been reasoning that because through a technicality in the charter amendments adopted by that city last January, it is declared that the city's officials, conducting the city's business since then, have not the necessary legal powers to act, that all bargains they may have made are null and void.

The legality of the street improvement contracts awarded during this period is under question and therefore some property owners are seeking to repudiate their obligations to pay a share of the assessments for work that has benefited their property.

This is civic immorality of the worst kind and no matter what defense those people may put up for their repudiation of righteously incurred claims they are as much in the category of the unjust as those who take advantage of earthquake darkness to loot houses and rob travelers.

PROGRESS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

It is not a far cry to the days when Dr. Mary Walker was a curiosity and the bloomer ladies were in danger of being mobbed on the streets. It is not a long time since the Salvation Army lasses with their poke bonnets and plain dress were similarly mobbed. In the latter days of the nineteenth and the early days of the twentieth century a mighty advance was made in the emancipation of woman, and today even Dr. Mary Walker's male attire would attract little attention; while, as everybody knows, the Salvation Army lass's uniform is an aegis of protection.

Curiously enough, the wave of woman suffrage is moving from West to East. In the "wild and woolly West" almost all the states grant suffrage to woman; the Middle West has grudgingly awakened to the movement and gives suffrage in less than one-half of its area; the eastern third of the country gives no suffrage at all.

In the purely western states New Mexico, which grants partial suffrage, is the only state that breaks the continuity of the suffrage column. East of a line drawn from the western borders of North and South Dakota, no state except Kansas grants complete suffrage. From the western line of Alabama northward to the western line of Pennsylvania, all the states to the west with the exception of Indiana, Missouri, Arkansas and Texas grant woman suffrage partially. No state east of that line, however, grants even partial suffrage, except New York and the New England states.

None of the states of the old South grant complete suffrage. Mississippi, Louisiana and Kentucky grant partial suffrage. Of the old North every state gives woman partial suffrage except Indiana, Pennsylvania and Maine. It is very plain that wherever illiteracy is lowest, women obtain suffrage; wherever illiteracy is prevalent and education in the discard, woman suffrage goes a-begging.

All this tends to show that it is only a question of time as to when women will obtain the right to vote in every state of the Union. It remains with themselves to hasten that time by showing, as they undoubtedly will, that they know how to use their new privilege conservatively and with discretion.

Those who witnessed the rodeo given by the Elks in a vacant lot on Brand boulevard Monday could not have failed to have seen how very inadequate are the conditions in Glendale for handling such public events. There was neither room for the horsemen and horsewomen to demonstrate their ability, nor was there proper accommodation for spectators. The dust created by the horses' feet rose in clouds and made everyone uncomfortable. Besides the whole affair looked cheap for a city of dignity and civic pride like Glendale. It also added another argument to the contention of those who maintain that Verdugo park or some other area should be put into condition for such affairs and that citizens of all classes should get together on this question.

AUTO SALES IN CALIFORNIA

A recent issue of Motor presents some figures on the automobile industry which are most impressive.

According to a table compiled by the federal government showing the total number of cars registered in the United States last year, and the revenues from these registrations, there were in use last year 1,666,984 cars of all classes. The payments for licenses aggregated $12,270,035.

California stands third on the list of cars, with 123,504, while New York is first, with 150,89, and Illinois second, with 131,140.

In revenues California was second, with total receipts of $1,338,785, while New York licenses amounted to $1,529,852.

The value of the cars when bought, placing the average price at $700, must have been not less than $1,166,888,800.

Using the same figures for computation, California last year had invested $96,452,800 in motor cars.

But this is not the end of the story. Last year alone 485,900 new cars were sold in the United States, representing an investment of $340,130,000.

Of these cars California took 30,000. In other words, the people of this state at a time when there was universal complaint of hard times, spent $21,000,000 in motor cars.

It would seem that there is some money in the country in spite of the solemn predictions of disaster and the complaints of bad business and some one seems to be making money.

If California can buy 30,000 cars when times are bad, the automobile dealers will have a hard time keeping pace with their orders in boom times.

Once more the lie is given to the hard times complaints by the facts in connection with the automobile industry at this very moment.

Times may be dull in some lines, but there is no room for doubt as to the prosperity of the automobile industry throughout the country.—Sacramento Union.

Any little boy who feels inclined to loot a bird's nest should pause and reflect that his vandalism may be depriving his mother of a nice feather for her hat.

If President Wilson succeeds in averting a serious military crisis it looks as if the Nobel peace prize might naturally gravitate in his direction.

Roumania now wants its share of world politics. Yet a share of world politics just now is a good deal like a share in a dynamite explosion.

CERTIFICATE OF BUSINESS

AN HONORED GUEST

"No man is as well known as he thinks he is," says Caruso. "I was motoring on Long Island recently. My car broke down and I entered a farmhouse to get warm. The farmer and I chatted and when he asked my name I told him modestly that it was Caruso. At that name he threw up his hands.

"'Caruso!' he exclaimed. 'Robinson Caruso, the great traveler. Little did I expect ever to see a man like yer in this here humble kitchen, sir!'"—Tit-Bits.

BURBANK

On Friday, July 9, at high noon occurred the marriage of Miss Winnifred Eichar, daughter of Mrs. E. F. Eichar, who resides at Sixth and Orange street in this city, to Mr. Earl McKee of Lexington, Ky. The wedding was a quiet one, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Locke at the First M. E. church of Los Angeles. The bride has many friends in Burbank, making a large number of acquaintances while an employee of the local postoffice a couple of years ago. The past twelve months she has been teaching in the public schools of Sunnyside, Wash., and her marriage was indeed a surprise to her hosts of friends. Mr. McKee is a young attorney of Lincoln, Neb., but so delighted is he with Southern California that he and his bride will spend the summer at the Coryell ranch near Burbank at Hines Station. Mr. and Mrs. McKee will be at home to their many friends after August 1st.

W. S. Walker is suffering from an attack of nervous prostration.

Work on the floral float, which will represent Burbank in the big parade in Los Angeles tomorrow, is in progress today in the yard of P. A. Farley, 480 Verdugo street.

J. M. Thrasher and family are spending the week at Huntington Beach in attendance at the camp meeting.

Miss Pearl Willey of Downey is spending the week here with her sister, Mrs. Henderson, and family.

Bids have been received and the contract will be let at once for the construction of the Walker business block, which will be erected next to the O. C. Lane garage. The building will be 50x80, and contain three store rooms, and the successful contractor must push the work to completion.

O. L. Bashford, Jack Anderson, Cecil Lockwood and son, P. S. Eustis, Al Ackerly, Ed Fisher, Albert Erickson and son, Geo. Olin and E. Minert left Burbank Saturday night for San Pedro and left the harbor for Catalina island early Sunday morning, where they spent the day fishing. They caught eighteen albacore, or about 300 pounds. Geo. Olin handled the wheel and threw in bait for the fish. Daddy Eustis had bought a brand new line for the occasion and had it snapped off three times, and says next time he will have to take baling wire. All had a glorious time and are ready for another trip any time.

A touring party came through Burbank Tuesday morning from Denver in a Garford Six. They had only one puncture and a blow-out on their entire trip. All were so pleased with this section of the San Fernando valley that they are spending a couple of days in this vicinity while enroute to the San Francisco exposition. None of the party had ever seen or tasted ripe apricots and after eating a peck or so, pronounced them as the best fruit they ever tasted.

M. L. Young returned Monday evening from a four days' trip to San Diego and Catalina. Mr. Young says that the exposition grounds are indeed beautiful.

Miss Hattie Edgerly, from North Dakota, is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ludlow.

A hundred and eight Boy Scouts from Los Angeles passed through Burbank Tuesday morning while out on a day's tramping expedition.

Cecil Lockwood and family motored to Seal Beach Tuesday morning, where they will spend a week enjoying surf bathing, fishing and the cool ocean breezes.

Clyde Coryell, a young civil engineer of San Francisco, arrived in Burbank Monday to spend a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coryell, and other relatives.

These hot days the delicious ice cream and refreshing soft drinks served at McNutt's confectionery are indeed cooling. Also light lunches. candies, cigars, tobaccos, etc. This confectionery is under new management, has been redecorated throughout, and is one of the finest in the San Fernando valley. Orders taken for special ice cream for parties, socials, etc. 1t

The Problem Solved

Often you have wanted to make alterations around your home. We'll say, add French Windows and a door. You would have to hunt up a jobbing carpenter for the carpenter work and pay him for his time while he purchased the lumber, the glass, the hardware. After he had finished, a painter would have to be called to varnish and finish the work, making it both expensive and troublesome for you to make the improvement, whether it were French Windows, a Sun Porch, Screens, a Cupboard or a combination of jobs.

WHY NOT PUT IT UP TO THE GLENDALE MILL?

If it's made from wood, they can make it. Have the work all done by one firm quicker, cheaper and more satisfactory.

SELF-MADE FARMER AT FIFTEEN

In the "interesting people" department of the July American magazine appears an article about Melvin Spofford Hatch, a fifteen-year-old North Carolina boy, who at thirteen bought a farm with money that he himself earned. What a normal American boy who is encouraged in thrift and enterprise can accomplish is described in this article, an extract from which follows:

"A young boy in the mountains of western North Carolina, Master Melvin Spofford Hatch, bought a small truck farm on the outskirts of the town of Hendersonville when he was thirteen, finishing payment for it by the time his fifteenth birthday had arrived, last September.

"Thousands of boys are as favorably situated as he is for doing the same thing; it is only that they could do it and he did it that makes the difference. His methods have not been spectacular; he bears not the slightest resemblance to the heroes of various popular boys' books, nor has he been spurred by any dire necessity; he has not been goaded into action in any way or required to drudge away his boyhood; he has merely been given sympathetic encouragement and been allowed to do his own thinking and planning and to reap his own reward. The fact that at fifteen he has achieved a success that might be envied by a full-grown man (and that without the loss of a single day at school or the loss of too great a part of his boyish pleasures) is to be attributed to three virtues that should be commonplace: Thrift, industry and good judgment.

"The purchase of the farm was handled in an entirely business-like manner. No favors were given or asked on either side. Eighty dollars was the first payment, and a mortgage at the legal rate of interest was given for the remainder of the purchase price. The house was promptly rented for five dollars a month. This took care of the interest and taxes and left a small sum over toward the payments on the principal. At this rate the farm would have been paid for by the time he was twenty-one without a single extra exertion on his part, and all the money he earned might be spent for baseball bats, tickets to the moving picture shows and other things dear to the boyish heart; some of it did go in these directions; for, be it understood, he is a real live boy; some of it, too, went in a donation to the town hospital and to an orphanage, for he is a public-spirited citizen as well as a good business man; however, our hero of the commonplace did not rest on his laurels, but looked around for more opportunities.

"As before said, the town was a summer resort, overflowing with boarding houses; it was also minus a system of garbage collection, so the landlady of the nearest boarding house was more than willing to fall in with a proposition to buy two pigs for Melvin to keep on his father's farm.

"In addition to being a landed proprietor, Master Hatch has also a steady income acquired solely by his own exertions, for he has a small sum of money loaned at good interest as well as the steady rent of the house, and, most hopeful sign, when the country's needs are considered, it is evident that the siren song of the city will fall on deaf ears in coming years, for the other day he said to his business adviser, his mother, I think it would be a good thing if I were to mortgage my land and buy more, so I can be improving it and be ready to make my living on it when I am twenty-one. I ought to be able to get it in good shape in the next six years."

STUDIES IN SHAKESPEARE

The topic for study of the Glendale Shakespeare club for Wednesday morning will be the second act of "Hamlet." These lessons are free to all who are interested in this important study. The members of the club are jubilant over the fact that Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, one of Southern California's most talented scholars, is donating her services as instructor. Although these classes are well attended, the club wishes the invitation to be general. The public is invited to meet with the club on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at 1550 Myrtle street.

A MAGNANIMOUS DOCTOR

When the baby came to Mary's home she was told that the doctor brought it. She thought he kept an unlimited supply. Mary had been taught that politeness was one of the greatest charms a person could possess.

One day the doctor called and said: "Mary, we have a new baby at our house. Would you like to go with me to see it?"

Mary was delighted. The baby was very tiny, weighing only three and a half pounds. When Mary saw this frail bit of humanity she turned her face up to the doctor and said:

"I think you are very polite to take the smallest for yourself."
